Dietz's Diamond Oil.

WE NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC in full confidence a new article of

KEROSENE OIL,

Which we warrant in every particular to be

Superior to any other Oil ever brought to the San Francisco market. It has been thoroughly tested in all the different Patent Coal Oil Burners, and found to produce

More Light and Burn Longer

by one-third, than any other oil in use.

Among the many advantages of this KEROSENE OIL over other oils are: First. That it is perfectly NON-EXPLOSIVE, and can be used with perfect safety in all kinds of LAMPS. Second. It is free from all objectionable and unpleasant smells, and burns with a clear white brilliant flame. We cordially solicit the public and FAMILIES to give this Oil a trial, and once tried we feel confident it will gain a preference over all other oil for economy as well as its superior burning qualities.

In order to protect ourselves against Counterfeits we have placed a brand on each can and case, which will be known as

DIETZ'S DIAMOND OIL.

It is now sold at wholesale and retail at 505 Front street,

Between Washington and Jackson streets,
And at Branch Store, 53 Second street

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE [illegible]

Naval Protection for American Commerce

The extensive commerce of the United States renders a large naval force necessary for its protection. The cost of such a naval force as would meet the wants of the nation would be immense. Patriotic men have given their attention to the matter, and the establishment of an "ocean militia" to be ready at all times for service when required by the exigencies of the nation is one of the means suggested to secure our rights and give protection to our marine on the seas, and to furnish an efficient arm of offense in naval warfare.

In 1856, Gen. Walbridge introduced this subject, in a speech at Tammany Hall to the citizens of New York. The speech was published at the time, but as there was no special and new cause for the consideration of the facts and arguments embraced in it the matter was suffered to rest until very lately, when the speech was republished, and is now introduced to public attention by circulars from the Hon. John P. Hale, of the Senate, and the Hon. W. Perry, of the House of Representatives. We received from these gentlemen, several days since, a copy of the speech in question, and their circular letters.

Of the great facts set forth of the extent of the American commerce, the necessity of its adequate protection—the great burden upon the country of a navy adequate to this protection—there can be no discordance of sentiment. And it is equally obvious that some new and efficient system is necessary for the protection of this great commercial interest in peace and in war. How is this to be accomplished? Gen. Walbridge answers:

"The general government should hold out some inducements to our great commercial marine, to aid in protecting itself."

Gen. W. proceeded to suggest what should be these inducements.

"That under the sanction of law, with ample guards and restrictions, there shall be organized a MILITIA NAVY, an arm of [illegible] corresponding to that employed by the government in the land service, under [illegible] system, by which shipowners shall [illegible] encouragement and aid by [illegible] of their vessels, so as to make them [illegible] bearing guns, if required, in the service of the country. That the Captains and [illegible] officers be commissioned in the [illegible] general government, upon some equitable plan that will give them rank and [illegible] proportion to the demands upon them [illegible] service in the new capacity of representing the naval power of the Union. That [illegible] youth who enters as a cabin boy [illegible] capacity as a seaman should be [illegible] trained in his honorable, though [illegible] and dangerous profession [illegible] the navy proper [illegible] which the interest of commerce [illegible] power of the Union [illegible]"

Gen. Walbridge made these suggestions [illegible] a basis of a plan for organizing [illegible] of the naval service which, [illegible] much to the Government, would be efficient in peace and war.

The project is new to us, yet we deem it important. Carried out, it would create a class of officers most reliable [illegible] war. The highest positions in the navy would be within the reach of the humblest sailor boy. He would feel—if such he was the case—that he was indeed a man possessing all the rights which belong to man, and would, at all times, be ready to sustain the Government.

The basis of the system proposed would have to be correct, and if its details can be adjusted in a manner which shall be successful, we have no question but it will add great military strength to the nation. Recent events in our intercourse with foreign commercial nations, has proved to us in a way not susceptible of mistake, that the United States must be armed at all points to protect her interests and her honor.

A secesh letter found in camp at Corinth, directed to Hon. A. M. Gentry of [illegible], contains this paragraph:

"I tell you, Colonel [illegible] resistance. We have [illegible] means to carry on the [illegible] utterly demoralized [illegible] sick. My regiment has not [illegible] in five months and to-day I [illegible] am worth in ordinary times [illegible] thousand dollars, am obliged [illegible] price of the postage upon the [illegible] can men be expected to fight and [illegible] circumstances."

THE CHINESE TAX.—The several Chinese organizations in San Francisco and in the State are making arrangements to test in the Supreme Court the constitutionality of the Chinese Tax Law.

From our Salmon River Correspondent

LETTER NO. IV.

WALLA WALLA, June [illegible], 1862.

[illegible] WALLA WALLA VALLEY.

This valley, in which is located the town of Walla Walla, is the handsomest and richest valley in this upper country. It is in area some 30 by [illegible] miles, and is the finest watered valley perhaps in the United States. The Walla Walla river, the [illegible], Dry Creek and Mill Creek with their innumerable branches and meanderings, water it so completely that you are hardly ever [illegible] from one of these streams, go wherever you may in the valley. And such [illegible]—with their banks now decked with flowers, pebbled bottoms and rapid currents, with waters cool as ice, and fresh from the mountains, they go singing their way all through the valley, looking in the sun like silvery threads. The soil will on [illegible] prove rich and productive. There are [illegible] two hundred and fifty farming families in the valley. It is unsurpassed for cattle and sheep, and is considered the finest corn land on the coast. It yielded last year from [illegible] to [illegible] bushels of wheat. The greater part of it is now unsettled, and the land only has [illegible] government title, and as our mines will furnish a fine market for the farmer, I know no place that holds out more inducements to immigrants, and no place which promises a richer return for the labors of the husbandman.

THE TOWN OF WALLA WALLA

is in this valley, on Mill Creek, with the Blue Mountains like a crescent to the eastward [illegible] twelve miles distant. The sides of the mountains toward town are destitute of timber until you ascend considerably, and are now robed in green, while the mountain heights in many places are still white with snow. The population here is eight hundred or a thousand. There are three hotels, half a dozen restaurants and numerous private boarding houses, two Express Companies—Wells, Fargo & Co. and Mossman & Co. The first does much the larger business, and is extending itself to all the points in this rapidly growing country. Mossman is said to be reliable and very accommodating, and is growing in public confidence. The Washington Statesman is issued here. It is a very creditable paper to this valley, and is conducted by Rees & Northrup, who are practical printers, do the work within themselves chiefly, and so are making the paper pay. They are both young men—sober, industrious and energetic, have public confidence, and deserve the success they are achieving. There are about sixty business houses here of different kinds, and their sales, I am told, will average perhaps $4,000 per week. Among the principal firms may be named Kyger & Reese, Brooks & Crandall, Baldwin & Whitman, Brown Bros. & Co., Schanbacker Bros. & Co., and D. S. Baker. Kyger & Reese have the largest and handsomest brick store in town, and do the largest business. There are half a dozen attorneys and as many doctors. The U. S. Court for this district is held here, and the Judge, E. P. Oliphant, lives here, and his social qualities are gathering many friends around him. There is a grist mill (Capt. Simms') about a mile out of town, and two more being erected about as near. The lumber used is brought from the Blue Mountains, where there are several saw mills. This town has a hard name abroad, but I can say, the few days I have been here it has been as orderly and quiet and well governed a place as you will see anywhere. The "roughs" and "sports" are in the mines, and the gambling houses not running, which will account to a degree for this. But the city is now organized under a charter, and I think there is a determination here to have better order here than prevailed last winter.

The garrison is located about one mile from town on a handsome circling mound, and commands a fine view of the country. There are now four companies there, and the post is under the command of Colonel Cornelius of the Oregon Cavalry.

My acquaintance with this upper country is as yet too limited to give any value to any opinion, but some considerations point to this place as the largest and most reliable business town in this upper country.

NEWS FROM MINES.

Persons are coming in daily from the mines, and trains are fitting out. Quite a number of trains this week have gone into the Powder river mines, and while there is no information that promises anything rich, the impression is growing here that there are paying mines there for a considerable population. I saw one man from there with thirty three ounces, and I saw another who said there were licenses there paying from $5 to $10 per [illegible]. A miner was down a day or so ago from Salmon with two hundred and fifty ounces, [illegible] last fall. A reliable merchant of this place, just down from Salmon, informs me new diggings were reported, and quit a stampede when he left. That many were doing well, while the larger portion was finding nothing. That there was considerable sickness there, owing, he thought, a good deal to the bad water, and that they were prospecting and digging in the streets of Florence. However, the nearer you get to the mines the more numerous and contradicting are the reports. I leave in the morning for Lewiston and Salmon, and may send a line from Lewiston. A man named Purdy, belonging to Woodard's pack train, was killed on the Touchet, not far from here, early on Wednesday morning. He got into a quarrel with a Spaniard in the company, about some blankets. The Spaniard drew a knife, stabbed him, and fled, and has not been arrested.

OBSERVER.

ANNEXATION.—A movement has been set on foot by the Legislature of Minnesota to annex the Red River Settlements of the North to the United States. A memorial to that effect has been sent to Congress, praying the privilege of extending the boundaries of the State of Minnesota over the North [illegible]. It is believed that a large majority of the people of Assiniboia—the official name of the Red River settlement—are favorable to annexation. The British Government, however, will probably object.

Peter Cad[illegible], an Irish miner, in Sierra county, California, fell down a shaft over [illegible]00 feet, and was smashed to pieces.

r FAME.—The following is one excellent compositions compo young lady attending the Pub his city, at the examination hel afternoon:

A Dream of Fame.

bitter cold night, one of those nes, when it is so comfortable e into the fire. I had dropp my hand. It contained stories of soldiers and statesmen—an all; of the wonderful genius of the wild, weird creations of Ell d the wonderful beings that hav the world. I was holding it love to do; the visions were d changing every instant, when at last a confused mass. Out of ere arose a magnificent temple Its pillars were of marble, and rance, in letters of light, these he Temple of Fame." Upon a ne there sat a beautiful woman ew at once was the "Goddess of crown of stars was on her fore r robe was spangled with gems hat led to the temple were rocky, ard to surmount; but in spite of s of the way, hundreds were st ing their way to bow before their iced in many places little beings draw them aside—Pride, Habit d Flatterers. The worst of these Flatterers. They constantly as spirants; and some were so blin praise that they were easily draw n they disappeared over a high not seen from the bottom. Some raged by the hard road and turne rs kept on and reached the goal— hem, for I was drawn on by an ir mpulse. As we entered her pres rose and waved her wand. With we knelt. Addressing herself to d: "Poor, deluded mortal! and seek for Fame? Hast thou counted Thousands have trodden the path , and bitterly have they regretted and see what the love of Fame can d looking toward the East, I saw ared to be the world spread out be Devastating armies had swept over , and the land was filled with des On every side arose the cries of pe ing some lost one sacrificed to the s greedy love of Fame. Farms ran with weeds and nettles. The lent, and no sound of industry was d the conqueror sat on his throne at his work, and yet was not sat his study I saw the man of letters, —Four more convicts escaped night t from the Penitentiary at this place. mes are White, Rose, McWinnan and Charley. It appears that White and Charley who were locked up in a cell managed by the assistance of a small wire to pick the lock which fastened t door to their cell, and one of them out procured a miner's pick which d to be near by, and with this pryed ks of the doors to their own, Rose's Winna's cells. They then made an pon the soft and thin brick wall just the window in the north end of the having previously provided them with a common sized file for this pur d in a few moments succeeded in pick enough brick to make a hole sufficiently crawl out at with all ease. All this e without arousing any of the other , or even being heard by those in the g cells. Each of the convicts had a ball and chain attached to his ankles, however, were muffled with pieces of g torn up for that purpose.

o not know whether search has been d for them or not, but presume there been, and they will in all probability good their escape. Need we intimate present management of the Peniten has become a mere farce upon the real of such an institution? The sentence convicts to such a place to punish them ime is all nonsense. There has not been er lodged there who had any ingenuity d really wanted to escape, but what has , or could so at any time that might convenienced, and out of some 30 or o should be found there, only 18 or 20 . The hole through which these fel made their escape has not been stopped was not at a late hour yesterday even but we do not know whether it is left to allow those chaps a chance to return others to escape.

ROVEMENTS.—We notice that Mr. K made considerable improvement to his at foot of Taylor street, and that part city now presents quite a lively appear s all of the shipping and transportation ds to and from the city is carried on in icinity.

NEWS.—No later news from the East night's stage.

FOOT RACE.—We noticed yesterday a hand [illegible] announcing that a foot race is to come off on Sunday next, at the Union race grounds across the river, in which is [illegible] "Tad" Sheppard Bay [illegible] Francis [illegible] of Sacramento, "Martin [illegible] [illegible] Dis tance, [illegible] will be given to [illegible] a break [illegible] A splendid opportunity is [illegible] for an in vestment of [illegible] the chances, besides other speculations [illegible] present themselves in favor of the [illegible] [illegible]."

RECRUITING OFFICE.—We have been in formed that Capt. Spencer, assisted by Lieut. Halloran have succeeded in enlisting quite a number of recruits for their company, and the prospect is favorable for them to obtain the requisite number to form a company in a few days. Their recruiting office is in the upper story of the Post office building on Front street, between Alder and Morrison streets.

A NEW PAPER.—We understand that Mr. Joseph L. Atkinson, editor of the late [illegible], will again commence the publication of an evening paper under new auspices, in a few days.

PERSONAL.—Mr. S. G. Gould, recent editor of the Times, takes his departure for Lewiston, by this morning's steamer. Success attend him.

REMOVAL.—The Post office has been temporarily removed to an upper story two doors south of the usual place, in consequence of high water.

NO WATER.—In consequence of too much water, the supply of water has ceased to flow through the pipes in the center and lower portions of the city. The steam pumps cannot be worked.

STILL ON THE RISE.—The Willamette is still on the rise, having increased about one inch within the last 24 hours.

Never Despair.

There's gold for the man that will dig it,
And peace for the soul of the seeker—
There's love's wine for him that will drink it,
Overflowing the golden lipped beaker
There's fame for the brows of the thinker,
If he'll work and struggle to win it,
Every care-cloud that folds o'er the future
May prison rich blessings within it

There's a home for the son of gaunt sorrow,
A rest for the worn out and weary—
A hope for the pallid despairing,
A light o'er each path that is dreary
There's no wave so dark but the sunlight
Will break into snowy lily whiteness
There's no cloud so black in the heavens
But has some rich folded up brightness

'Tis hard to wade through the deep waters
Unseeing the shore that we covet,
'Tis dismal to look for Hope's radiance
When black veils of doubt hang above it
But Faith's hand can lift up the mountains,
And give us riches supernal—
She points to the Land of the Prophets
The land of the Blessed Eternal

Locked In!

OR, THE ACCIDENTAL INTERVIEW.

A MATRIMONIAL TALE

(Concluded)

Husband and wife were locked in each other's arms. How poor and paltry seemed their enmities and jealousies, their poisoned arrows of speech and verbal victories! Eternity was near them, and about them, lashing at the shaking vessel's sides, howling for them in the wind, roaring for them in the sea! The ship palpitated like a hunted hare, as though eager to offer human victims to appease the hungry elements, and save itself. Neither spoke; but by a long, endearing kiss proclaimed mutual forgiveness—then heart beating against heart, hand in hand, their fingers intertwined within each other, they knelt and prayed. In his height of health and pride of sarcasm, Thirlby sometimes scoffed at religion, and ridiculed his wife's strict observances with considerable humor Now, he felt sure that she was right, and cheek to cheek and lip to lip uttered fervent prayers for heavenly pardon and her safety.

Only once during the night the world came back to him, when he sobbed out. "I shall never see my boy!"

And minute after minute, each longer than the last passed away; every succeeding shock and lurch of the frail boat, they expected to feel the floor sink under them and the water pour down into their cushioned sea-tub.

A violent crash shook the ship from stem to stern; the cabin lamp fell shivered into atoms, and all was darkness. They clutched tightly to each other and thought their time had come.

The night passed. A ribbon of gray light in the horizon separated sea from sky, the gray grew whiter and more bright—it was morning. Husband and wife looked into each other's haggard face, they had thought they should never see them more.

The daylight was an inexpressible relief; they should not perish in the dark. Light was the breath of heaven. They were forgotten!

"Think you there is any hope?" whispered the wife, almost afraid to trust the sound of her own voice.

As she spoke, there was a noise upon the deck, and the sounds of sea and wind, and straining boards and creaking cordage grew more audible. The cabin door flew open, and the steward, wet as from a bath, and his face bleeding, looked in. "All right!" he gasped, we're saved—saved! Where's my missus? Jane, dear, open the door—we're saved, I tell you!"

The stewardess opened the door, and both couples repaired to the deck.

"We shall weather it, praised be God!" said the white-haired captain. "Who would have thought this six hours ago?"

"Maria!"

"Hush! We have received a severe and proper punishment for our presumption and our crime."

A steam-tug came out to their rescue, and carried them safely into Kingstown harbor

There was a smiling lady, a moustached gentleman, and a handsome yellow haired boy awaiting them.

"Mamma!—my dear, dear mamma!"—cried the young gentleman, with undisguised ecstacy.

"Franky, my own. Here's papa!"

"Papa!" said the boy, rounding his eyes "Papa from India?"

"Yes, dear."

"Mr. Thirlby!" said Mrs. O'Grady.

"Had you forgotten me, Elinor?" said that gentleman.

"Mamma, why hasn't papa been with you before, when"—

"Hush, dear!"

Mr. Thirlby did not return to India, and both his own and his wife's names are always set down for a handsome sum in all subscriptions for Life-boats, or Preservations from Shipwreck.

TENNESSEE.

Ho! glorious tidings from the West the current sets the turn,
Kentucky, tired of discord, makes the sign of return,
And back into its vacant place—thence never more to flee—
Wheels from beneath the Treason-cloud the Star of Tennessee.

Where'er our conquering legions move the light of truth breaks in,
O'er rebel hearts as well as arms proud victories they win
The fog of Falsehood clears away, and soon the South shall be
From Gulf to Northern border line, as ransomed Tennessee

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order should make a TIGHT LOCK STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity and without changing the tension It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads and with undue tension; and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch and to run noiselessly, and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed no others are in constant contact with the work

It should not be liable to get out of order neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET BELOW MONTGOMERY

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY Attending and Resident Physician, L J CZAPKAY M D, Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Address, DR L J CZAPKAY, San Francisco

Of all diseases the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages Strictures, Gleet Gravel Diabetes diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy Epileptic Fits, St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory Loss of Power, General Weakness Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight Wakefulness Dyspepsia Liver Diseases Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated how ever long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor entirely vegetable causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is [illegible] effected —a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury, which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter ulcers eruptions and other affections of the skin eyes throat and lungs entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement prevents the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage society, business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures — Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute Sacramento st below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who having recovered their former health and happiness by the timely aid of the renowned [illegible] their cases and remedies [illegible] and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public [illegible] impersonally commend their publicity and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned [illegible] of acquainting those who may be unfortunately enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief [illegible] [illegible] I feel it my duty to thus publicly express my most sincere gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay [illegible] recovery of his health [illegible] the distressing symptoms [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] several in [illegible] months [illegible] [illegible] that instead of [illegible] my symptoms became [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] would be of little consequence [illegible] [illegible] my health [illegible] strength [illegible] [illegible] with but a faint hope [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] instantly relieved me of the [illegible] dizziness in my head [illegible] place myself immediately under his care [illegible] [illegible] his directions [illegible] my [illegible] the [illegible] the weakness of my limbs [illegible] body on the slightest exertion [illegible] and evil forebodings [illegible] want of confidence [illegible] others the incapability to study [illegible] want of resolution, the frightful exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that one under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected
B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco—
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April A D 1866 Signed [L S] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 186[illegible].

Dr L J CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do so as to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Remain gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my misery. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician and by recommendation, called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my circumstances, of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which however he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
